ALL SORTS.

—Adams is back in Carson.
—The scarlet fever is subsiding.
—Wizard Oil at Geo. Thaxter's.
—Geo. Richard's roller rink will open today.
—Major Garrard wants to run for Senator.
—Hock Mason is not an Adams man this Fall.
—The Hofer Bros. are fast getting ready to open.
—The Republican ticket is strengthening daily.
—Woodburn and Stevenson will stump the State together.
—The APPEAL acknowledges complimentary tickets to the State Fair.
—The jury in the Crow case visited the scene of the killing yesterday.
—Adams has grown weaker every day since Stevenson was nominated.
—The report of the building for Engraving and Printing being on fire is untrue.

—The trouble among the Magwumps now is principally regarding the Legislative ticket.
—The campaign opens in Virginia City on Saturday evening, with Woodburn and Stevenson.
—The Democratic canvass, headed by the arch still hunter, has already about spent its force.
—The dodge of McMillan to draw a crowd by debating with Woodburn, is considered good but a little thin.

—Fair not in the field and the anti-Chinese dodge seen through, makes the Magwump's life anything but a happy one.
—The heavy interests of the State are back of the Republican ticket, and it will win by an averaged thousand majority.

—Just received at A. Bergman's, 25 dozen Boys' Pants from 50 cents up, also a few dozen Calico Waists, at 25 cents each.

—The Tribune states that Jewett Adams paid his miners $2 50 per day in Nye county. We have always heard the amount placed at $1 a day.

—E. P. Lovejoy of Wabaska, was in town yesterday, rustling up attractions for the District Fair. Any fair that he rustles for will come out all right.

—In a late Dublin paper appears the startling advertisement: "Lodgings to let in Hell, well suited for lawyers." An Irish friend assures us that Hell is the regular name of a Dublin locality near Christ Church Cathedral.

—"My daughter has taken the medicine faithfully according to directions, and her health and spirits are perfect. The humor is all gone from her face. I wish every anxious mother might know what a blessing Ayer's Sarsaparilla is in such cases."

—Sufferer from the effects of quinine, used as a remedy for chills and fever, will appreciate Ayer's Ague Cure, a powerful tonic bitter, composed wholly of vegetable substances, without a particle of any noxious drug. Its action is peculiar, prompt and powerful, breaking up the chill, curing the fever, and expelling the poison from the system, yet leaving no harmful or unpleasant effect upon the patient.

It Finally Came Out.

A witness was on the stand yesterday in the Crow case to impeach another witness, when the following dialogue took place between attorney and witness.

"Do you know anything about this witness?"
"Well yes, I think I do."
"What do you know against him?"
"Well a good deal."
"State specifically."
"Well he's a sort of a, you see he ain't exactly a"
"Well out with it."
"Well everybody says he's sorter er—"
"Well what?"
"Well he don't exactly stand,"
"Well how don't he stand, talk out man, say just exactly what you think; just as if you were out on the street."
"Well, I consider him a d— son of a b— that's his reputation round here."
"What else do you hear against him?"
"Oh nothing special, his sister told me he murdered his father but that's about all."

THE CROW CASE.

Testimony Taken Yesterday in the Trial.

Yesterday morning Wellington Stewart, Harry Martin, L. Stearn, Roger Crow and Peter Crow, testified mostly as to Crow's whereabouts on the day of the killing.

A number of people were placed on the stand to impeach the veracity of Lynch. They testified that his character was bad.

A long wrangle was had over the allowing of some statements made by Lynch relative to the homicide. The Court finally ruled out the evidence.

An attempt was made by the prosecution to show that Lynch, a witness, went back to Empire on the evening of the homicide, and therefore did not see the killing. McMartin, a conductor, testified that Lynch was at the train and said he was going home.

Claimed by the defense that he might have made these declamations and still not have gone. Court ruled out the testimony.

The Court adjourned until this morning at 10 o'clock.

Rosh Hashanah 5647.

The above is the Hebrew translation of the New Year 5647, and which will be observed throughout the globe Thursday and Friday, Sept. 30th and Oct. 1st. The first day of Rosh Hashanah (New Year) commences the first day of the month called Tishri, and is followed by the greatest Day of Atonement, which occurs on the 10th day of Tishri (Saturday Oct. 9) and according to old custom are still the days upon which all the Hebrews, with here and there an exception, renew their fealty to the covenant of their fathers. Business, of course, will be entirely suspended with these people on the days named, and services will be held in every community where there are enough to have an assembly.

There will be services in this city at Masonic Hall.

"For God's sake let Go"

In Sacramento the other day a man named Nichols placed Judge Gallaway in nomination and made a long rambling speech until a delegate called out "For God's sake let go." The Convention howled the man down. There were some very long winded rambling orators in the Carson Convention and they prolonged the ceremonies beyond all reason. As a rule unless a very eloquent speech is made no votes are effected. It is simply a waste of words. The records of most of the candidates are well known in a State so small and the delegates have their minds all made up beforehand.

Mountain Pink.

Miss Bella Moore is young, pretty and a most pleasing actress, while the company that support her are far above the average of the traveling combinations. "A Mountain Pink" was presented for the second and last time at the California Theater last evening to a large and intensely appreciative audience.

Miss Moore by her charming acting as the uncultured, but brave and pure hearted heroine, captivated all hearts and won for her several calls before the curtain.—San Jose (Cal.) Mercury.

Rickey's Body Servant.

The most broken up man in the State is the colored body servant of Mr. Rickey.

"Fo de Lawd, I cant figger out how de party didnt take Massa Rickey. If he was on deck de campaign would boil all de while. If old Massa Rickey hadnt threatened to lick me if I didnt stay and vote de old ticket straight I believe I'd go to Sacramento dis Fall.

School Hooks.

We have on hand at the Pioneer Book Store of J. G. Fox, a complete stock of all books used in the schools of this State. Also a full line of school stationery at reduced prices. Harper's New Geographies exchanged for Cornell's.

THE SALTED MINE.

Which Silva Sold to the Southern Development Company.

The suit of the Southern Development Co. of Nevada against Frank Silva was argued and submitted in the United States Circuit Court of San Francisco on Tuesday. The action is one in equity to recover $10,000—the price paid for a silver mine in Inyo county. The complaint charges that the company purchased the property in 1884 through the false and fraudulent representation of Silva, and also charges that the claim, which is situated near Darwin, was "salted."

Discovering that fact, the company caused the arrest of Silva for obtaining money under false pretenses. The jury disagreed, and then the company, learning that he had $7,500 of the purchase money on deposit, brought the present action and garnished it.

Silva's lawyer set up a claim that the certificate of deposit had been transferred to him, and thus the matter now stands. The prayer of the plaintiffs is that they be allowed to deed the property back to Silva and he refund to them the purchase price.

The Embalmers' Bill.

NEW YORK, October 1st.—A Saratoga dispatch to the Sun says that the undertakers who embalmed the body of General Grant have notified W. J. Arkell, proprietor of the Judge and the Albany Evening Journal, of a suit instituted against him for $500 for that service. Arkell, as manager of the company that own Mt. McGregor, was constantly engaged for over a month prior to the General's death in providing for his comfort in various ways. Under the direction of Dr. Douglass, Arkell telegraphed as soon as the General died, to the firm of E. Holmes & Co. at Saratoga to go to Mt. McGregor with appliances for laying out the body. The bill rendered by the undertakers amounted to five hundred dollars.

Arkell's lawyer said to your correspondent that he saw no reason to think that Mr. Arkell could be held for the bill, and added: "The whole thing is a nutshell is that the bill has been presented to every body connected with General Grant's family, except Mrs. Grant, and as it has been repudiated all around, they have fallen back on Mr. Arkell. The undertakers say they have presented the bill to Col. Grant, which was pronounced proper by Dr. Douglass. Colonel Grant simply refused to pay it. There is no administrator of Grant to whom it could be presented, and Holmes & Co. did not like to present it to Mrs. Grant. In fact there is no one from whom pay can be demanded and collected unless it be my client Arkell which I do not admit for a moment." Following the dispatch the Sun prints these lines: "If Holmes & Co. will be so good as to send the bill to the editor of the Sun he will remit them the amount."

Thanks to the Ladies.

OFFICE STATE BOARD AGRICULTURE, RENO, NEV., Sept. 28, 1886.

The State Board of Agriculture desires to make public acknowledgment of its appreciation of the valuable services rendered the State Fair by the ladies of Nevada, to whose untiring energy and fidelity the beautiful appearance of the Pavilion has always been due, and the Board hereby tenders its thanks to those ladies who have so largely contributed to the pleasure of all who have ever visited the Pavilion. It hopes that they will spare the time to again come to the rescue and lend a helping hand toward making the Fair all that it should be.

C. C. STEVENSON,
President.

C. H. STODDARD,
Secretary.

Rumpus in Washoe.

There always seems to be some sort of a rumpus in Washoe county in politics. At the Democratic County Convention a man named Jones was nominated for District Attorney. The ballot was announced, Jones 24, Knox 17; whereas the delegates insist that the way they voted was Knox 22, Jones 17. When the tellers ring in more votes than the Convention has in it, it is high time to kick. Knox has come out independent, and Jones is on the war path. The trouble started by the Democrats at the Elko Convention seems to be infectious.
